LETTER FROM THE CEO

Dear Shareholders

The past reporting period was marked by a challenging macroeconomic environment and associated heightened volatility in financial asset prices. Uncertainty related to the outbreak of war in Ukraine, high inflation readings and the associated restrictive monetary policy pursued by central banks caused virtually all investment asset classes, both debt and equity instruments, to reprice. In such circumstances, financing early-stage projects remained difficult and the discounting of listed assets meant that opportunities for divestment at attractive rates of return were limited.

Carpathia Capital closed 2022 with a financial result of PLN -2,337 thousand and a cash balance of PLN 657 thousand. Proceeds from the sale of financial assets amounted to over PLN 936k. Despite difficult conditions, several positions were successfully closed. In the case of several other entities, temporary price rises were used to partially liquidate holdings.

On the investment side, the investment activities carried out in the past year focused primarily on the Polish market. Investments were made in the companies: Spectral Games SA, Petgram SA, Grupa Modne Zakupy SA and Bron.pl SA. In the investment process, great attention was paid to appropriate sectoral diversification of the portfolio. The total value of the invested funds exceeded PLN 1 million.

On the investment side, the investment activities carried out in the past year were primarily focused on the Polish market. Investments were made in the companies: Spectral Games SA, Petgram SA, Grupa Modne Zakupy SA and Bron.pl SA. In the investment process, great attention was paid to appropriate sectoral diversification of the portfolio. The total value of invested funds exceeded PLN 1 million.

We view the part of the portfolio held in non-public assets with some optimism. Several companies carried out further funding rounds last year, at valuations clearly above the levels at which Carpathia Capital committed funds. Also in terms of stocks already listed, we hope that the next few months will bring some recovery in the primary market, which will open up the prospects of favourable exits.

Although investment activity is currently focused on the Polish market, it should be emphasised that the Romanian market is still one of the most promising in Europe. Therefore, the situation on the Bucharest trading floor remains under our observation. We assume that the development of entrepreneurship and the growing demand for capital should translate into the condition of the capital market there in the long term. We remain convinced that the competence and know-how built up over several years of presence will allow us to take advantage of emerging opportunities.

The first months of this year are marked by a certain unwinding of the market situation. The relative calming down of the situation related to the war in Ukraine, slightly better economic growth prospects and a slight slowdown in inflationary processes mean that market sentiment has improved somewhat. Consequently, we view the horizon for the coming quarters with some optimism.

We believe that the chosen direction of the Company's development will allow us to continue to effectively manage the investment portfolio we have built. In the coming years, we will continue to work on the long-term growth of the Company's value by making further investments in the Polish and Romanian markets. We will make every effort to ensure that Carpathia Capital grows dynamically, creating long-term value for shareholders.

Sincerely Yours,

Paweł Śliwiński,
CEO of Carpathia Capital

7. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Goodwill

Goodwill in the financial statements is not amortized but it is tested for impairment.

Intangible assets

Expenditure on purchased computer software and other intangible assets are capitalized and depreciated on a straight-line basis over the period of expected economic utility.

In the event of impairment of assets classified as intangible assets, a write-down is made. Intangible assets are presented as of the balance sheet date according to the purchase price reduced by accumulated amortization accrued to the balance sheet date and decreased by possible write-downs.

Tangible fixed assets

Fixed assets include those assets whose expected period of use is longer than one year and which are intended for the purposes of the Company's operations or transferred for use to other entities on the basis of a rental agreement or other agreements of a similar nature. Fixed assets under lease are classified as non-current assets when substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset are transferred to the Company.

Fixed assets are valued at purchase price, production cost and decreased by depreciation and write-offs due to permanent loss of value. Fixed assets are depreciated in the period corresponding to their estimated useful life. Fixed assets with a purchase price of up to PLN 10,000 PLN are depreciated once. The exception is computer hardware, depreciated based on its estimated useful life.

Borrowing costs directly related to the acquisition or production of assets that require a longer period to be fit for use or resale are capitalized as part of the cost of acquiring a qualifying asset until the asset is put into use.

Tangible right-of-use assets are measured at the present value of the asset's remaining serviceable use (lease payments) discounted using the contract's incremental borrowing rate at the date of first application.

Depreciation is calculated for all fixed assets, except land and fixed assets under construction, using the straight-line method, using the following annual depreciation rates:

- Means of transport 20%;
- computer hardware 30%;
- Remaining from 18% to 100%.

Non-current assets held for sale

Fixed assets (and groups of net assets held for sale) classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of the two values: their carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell. The Company classifies an asset (or group) as held for sale if its carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through its continued use.

Financial assets

Financial assets are recognized according to the transaction date.

Financial assets, on the day they are acquired or created, are classified into the following categories:

- financial assets measured at amortized cost,
- financial assets at fair value through profit or loss,
- financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income.

A financial asset is classified in the 'Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost' category if both of the following conditions are met:

- it is maintained in accordance with a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets to collect contractual cash flows,
- the terms of its contract give rise to timely cash flows that are merely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

"Financial assets measured at amortized cost", excluding trade receivables that do not have a significant financing component, are initially recognized at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs. Trade receivables that do not have a significant financing component are initially measured at fair value (transaction price). Subsequent valuation is carried out at amortized cost, using the effective interest rate method, less impairment losses.

Interest on financial assets classified as "Financial assets measured at amortized cost", calculated using the effective interest method, is recognized in profit or loss for the current period in financial income.

The category "Financial assets measured at amortized cost" includes:

- cash and cash equivalents,
- trade receivables,
- other receivables and
- other financial assets measured at amortized cost (including, inter alia, corporate bonds).

A financial asset at fair value through profit or loss is an asset or a financial liability that is held for trading.

At the end of the reporting period, the company assesses the need for write-downs updating the value of financial assets.

When preparing separate financial statements, an entity recognizes investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates at cost.

Determining the fair value of financial assets

The Company classifies the fair value measurement using the fair value hierarchy reflecting the significance of individual input data affecting the measurement. The fair value hierarchy is as follows:

- quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1),
- Input data other than quotes in the Level 1 range that can be identified or observed for the asset or liability, directly (i.e. in the form of prices) or indirectly (i.e. based on calculations based on prices) (level 2).
- inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (ie unobservable data) (level 3).

The fair value of equity instruments listed on an active market is measured at market value; an active market is a market where homogeneous positions are traded, prices are publicly announced, and buyers and sellers can be found there at any time. The fair value of shares is determined on the basis of stock exchange quotations. If the market for a given financial asset and unlisted securities is not active, the Company determines the fair value using valuation techniques. These include the use of recent arm's length transactions, reference to other instruments that are substantially the same, discounted cash flow analysis, making maximum use of market information and as little reliance on information from the Company as possible.

Classification and valuation of shares and interests in other entities

According to the decision of the Management Board of CARPATHIA CAPITAL ALTERNATYWNA SPÓŁKA INWESTYCYJNA S.A. shares and stocks purchased or acquired by the Company in preparation for a stock exchange debut (stocks and shares of portfolio companies) are classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. The value of stocks and shares in other entities is determined in accordance with the above-mentioned principles of "Determining the fair value of financial assets".

Shares classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are measured as at the balance sheet date at fair value, reflecting the effects of the valuation on the financial result.

Investment properties

Real estate which is the source of rental income and / or value appreciation over time is treated as investment property. Investment properties are valued as at the balance sheet date at their fair value. Profits and losses resulting from changes in the fair value of investment properties are recognized in the profit and loss account in the period in which they arise.

The company may decide to appraise investment real estate according to the purchase price or production cost.

Trade receivables other receivables

They are initially recognized at fair value increased by directly attributable transaction costs. The measurement at a later date is carried out at amortized cost, using the effective interest rate method, less impairment losses.

Impaired or overdue receivables are covered with individual write-offs reflecting the management board's assessment of the possibility of their recovery. Write-downs of receivables increase other operating costs. Expected credit losses are not measured on a collective basis. At each reporting date, the Company measures the allowance for expected credit losses in an amount equal to the expected credit losses over the life of the instrument.

Inventories

Inventories are measured at actual purchase prices less any impairment losses. The outflow is determined on the basis of the FIFO method.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash is shown at nominal value. Cash in foreign currencies is converted as at the balance sheet date at the closing rate as at the balance sheet date.

Prepaid expenses

Prepayments and accruals are made in relation to the incurred costs relating to future reporting periods that meet the definition of assets according to IFRS. Write-offs of active prepayments and accruals are made according to the passage of time. The time and method of settlement is justified by the nature of the settled costs.

Equity

Equity capitals, except for treasury shares, are generally measured at their nominal value. Treasury shares are valued at purchase price.

Provisions

The provision is created when:

- the enterprise has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past events,
- it is probable that the fulfillment of the obligation will result in an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits and
- the amount of this obligation can be reliably estimated.

If the above conditions are not met, no provision is made.

Liabilities

Liabilities include all trade payables and all other payables. Liabilities expressed in foreign currencies are converted as at the balance sheet date into the Polish currency using the average exchange rate announced on that day for a given foreign currency by the National Bank of Poland.

As at the acquisition date, the Company measures financial liabilities at fair value, ie most often according to the fair value of the amount received. The company includes transaction costs in the initial value of all financial liabilities. The measurement at a later date is carried out at amortized cost, using the effective interest rate method, except for financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. Liabilities are disclosed in the amount due.

Accruals

Accruals are made in the amount of liabilities in the current reporting period.

The company refrains from estimating accrued expenses for employee benefits due to the small number of employees and the granting of benefits due to them in a given accounting period.

Current and deferred income tax

The obligatory burden on the financial result consists of the current tax and deferred tax.

The current tax burden is calculated on the basis of the taxable income (tax base) for a given financial year.

Deferred tax is calculated using the balance sheet method based on temporary differences between the value of assets and liabilities shown in the statement and their tax value.

Due to temporary differences, provisions and assets for deferred income tax are created.

The value of deferred tax assets is analyzed in order to determine whether the projected future tax profit will be sufficient for their realization. Otherwise, a write-off is made. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated based on the tax rates that will apply when the asset is realized or the liability becomes due. Deferred tax is recognized in the statement of business results, except when it relates to items recognized directly in equity, when deferred tax is also recognized in equity.

Revenues

An entity applies IFRS 15 to all contracts with customers, except:

- (a) leasing contracts within the scope of IAS 16, 'Leases';
- (b) insurance contracts within the scope of IFRS 4, Insurance Contracts;

c) financial instruments and other rights or contractual obligations within the scope of IFRS 9 "Financial Instruments", IFRS 10 "Consolidated Financial Statements", IFRS 11 "Joint Arrangements", IAS 27 "Separate Financial Statements" and IAS 28 "Investments in Associates" and joint ventures"; and
(d) non-monetary exchanges between entities engaged in the same type of activity to facilitate sales to customers or potential customers

Revenues from sales are recognized in the amount of the transaction price when the services promised in the contract are transferred to the customer, which takes place when the customer obtains control over these components.

The Company applies the principles of IFRS 15 with regard to individual contracts (or performance obligations).

Customer contract identification requirements

A contract with a customer meets its definition when all of the following criteria are met:
the parties to the contract have concluded a contract and are obliged to perform their obligations;
The company is able to identify each party's rights with respect to the goods or services to be transferred;
The company is able to identify the terms of payment for the goods or services to be transferred;
the agreement has commercial substance and it is probable that the Company will receive remuneration to which it will be entitled in exchange for goods or services to be provided to the client.

Identification of performance obligations

At the time of concluding the contract, the Company assesses the goods or services promised in the contract with the customer and identifies as a performance obligation each promise to provide the customer with a separately identifiable good or service.

Determining the transaction price

In order to determine the transaction price, the Company takes into account the terms of the contract and its customary commercial practices. The transaction price is the amount of remuneration that - as expected by the Company - will be due to it in return for the delivery of the promised goods or services to the customer. The fee stipulated in a contract with a customer may be fixed amounts, variable amounts, or both.

To estimate the variable remuneration, the Company decided to use the most probable value method for contracts with one value threshold and the expected value method for contracts with more value thresholds from which the customer is granted a discount.

Allocation of the transaction price to individual performance obligations

The Company assigns a transaction price to each performance obligation (or to a separate good or service) in an amount that reflects the amount of remuneration that, as expected by the Company, is due to it in return for the provision of the promised goods or services to the customer.

Recognition of revenue when performance obligations are met

The Company recognizes revenue when the performance obligation is met (or during the fulfillment) by transferring the promised good or service (ie an asset) to the customer (the customer obtains control over this asset). Revenue is recognized as amounts equal to the transaction price that has been allocated to the performance obligation.

The company transfers control of a good or service over time and therefore satisfies its performance obligation and recognizes revenue over time if one of the following conditions is met:

- the client simultaneously receives and benefits from the service as it is performed;
- as a result of the performance, an asset is created or improved, and control over this asset - as it arises or improves - is exercised by the customer;
- as a result of the performance of the service, no component with an alternative use for the Company is created, and the Company is entitled to an enforceable right to payment for the service provided so far.

Costs are deemed to be reasonable reductions in economic benefits in the reporting period, of a reliably determined value, in the form of a decrease in the value of assets or an increase in liabilities and provisions, which will reduce equity or increase its deficit, other than by withdrawing funds by shareholders or owners.

Investment income is income due from financial operations. In the Company, investment income includes interest earned on bank deposits, dividends, and the result on the sale of financial assets and their revaluation. In the case of dividend income, the recognition in the statement of results of operations takes place when the shareholders' right to receive payment is established.

Other operating income and costs are costs and revenues related to the sale of tangible fixed assets, establishing and releasing provisions and not directly related to the basic activity, but having an impact on the financial result.

Financial costs are the costs of financial operations incurred. Financial costs include interest on credits and loans.

Impairment

At each balance sheet date, the Company reviews the net value of assets in order to determine whether there are any premises indicating a possible impairment. If there are such indications, the recoverable amount of a given asset is estimated (ie net selling price or value in use, whichever is higher) in order to determine a potential impairment loss.

8. PROVISIONS

The provision is created when:

- the enterprise has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past events,
- it is probable that the fulfillment of the obligation will result in an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits and
- the amount of this obligation can be reliably estimated.

If the above conditions are not met, no provision is made.

Impairment

At each balance sheet date, the Company reviews the net value of assets in order to determine whether there are any premises indicating a possible impairment. If there are such indications, the recoverable amount of a given asset is estimated (ie net selling price or value in use, whichever is higher) in order to determine a potential impairment loss.

Depreciation of fixed assets and amortization of intangible assets

Depreciation is calculated for all fixed assets and intangible assets, except land and fixed assets under construction, using the straight-line method, using the following annual depreciation rates:

- Means of transport 20%;
- computer hardware 30%;
- Remaining from 18% to 100%.

9. OPERATIONAL SEGMENTS

The Issuer does not present information about operating segments required by IFRS 8, because the type of the Company's operations is focused only on direct private equity / venture capital investment activities. The company's operations are conducted in Poland, so the geographical breakdown was also abandoned.

Assumptions used for the valuation of financial assets assigned to the 3rd level.

The fair value of financial assets is determined based on stock exchange quotations. If the market for a given financial asset and unlisted securities is not active, the Company determines the fair value using valuation techniques. These include the use of recent arm's length transactions, reference to other instruments that are substantially the same, discounted cash flow analysis, making maximum use of market information and as little reliance on information from the Company as possible. The Company has adopted the principle that if the valuation does not show a significant difference in value, the shares and stocks classified to level 3 will be valued at the acquisition value less the revaluation write-off.

The company made a valuation of financial assets assigned to the 3rd level. As the valuation did not show a significant difference in value, the shares were left at the acquisition value less the impairment loss.

The nature and extent of the risks arising from financial instruments

The risk arising from financial instruments is the risk of loss due to changes in the prices of equity instruments, resulting from open positions in financial instruments (including shares, rights to shares, subscription rights), open positions in futures contracts and other open positions resulting from non-standard transactions approved by the Management Board.

The Issuer has identified the following risks and ways to minimize potential losses related to their occurrence.

The risk of a downturn in the capital market

The Issuer's financial result is influenced by the situation on the capital market, in particular by the quotation of shares on the regulated market or NewConnect. During the boom period, the largest number of non-public offers and public offers on the market are carried out. In the period of a bear market, firstly, it is more difficult to introduce new companies to stock-exchange trading, and secondly, the investment risk related to the shaping of the prices of shares that will be included in the Issuer's investment portfolio increases. Declines in share prices of portfolio companies may have a significant negative impact on the Issuer's financial results.

The Issuer aims to reduce the risk of financial losses by building a highly diversified investment portfolio in terms of the number of shares and stocks in portfolio companies and other financial instruments purchased, and by introducing limits on individual equity instruments and their total value.

The risk related to the expected high volatility of the financial result

Investors must be aware that future financial results will be largely affected by the Issuer's investment decisions related to the purchase of financial instruments, including shares of companies prepared for trading on the regulated market or the NewConnect market. Due to the high impact of the Issuer's capital investments on its financial result, it will be subject to greater fluctuations compared to companies operating in other industries.

The Issuer aims to reduce the risk by building a diversified investment portfolio, both in terms of the number of portfolio companies and industry diversification. The Issuer's capital investments in companies from the SME sector are each time preceded by a thorough financial analysis and legal analysis in order to minimize the risk of incorrect investment.

The risk related to the liquidity of the investment portfolio

The issuer acquires stocks or shares of non-public companies, which, until their introduction to an organized trading system, means their limited liquidity and the risk of not being able to quickly sell the shares held by the Issuer.

This risk is mitigated with the introduction of shares of portfolio companies to trading in an organized trading system. The Issuer assumes that exit transactions from its investment will usually be made by selling a block of shares to a professional investor or other capital investment fund, by selling shares on the market or in a secondary offer.

The risk related to no increase in the value of portfolio companies

The main source of profits for the VC / PE fund is the increase in the value of portfolio companies. The Issuer tries to acquire the assets of companies run by competent and experienced managers who, with capital support, will dynamically develop the portfolio company, strengthen its market position and, as a result, increase the value of the Issuer's investments. However, there is a risk that a satisfactory increase in the value of the portfolio companies will not be achieved in individual cases.

The risk related to the lack of an increase in the value of portfolio companies is limited by the Issuer by looking for companies operating in niche and / or growth markets or having an innovation concept on a selected market. The Issuer also reduces this risk by diversifying projects.

Risk related to investments made in portfolio companies

The issuer indicates that in the case of occurrence of unfavorable events in portfolio companies (bankruptcy, liquidation, cessation of activity) may be forced to make revaluation write-offs of investments made in these companies. The issuer makes investments in companies by purchasing shares / stocks and granting loans to companies for the development of their activities. In the event of reaching the above-mentioned situation in companies whose shares the Issuer purchased or granted loans to (purchased bonds), this may have a negative impact on the Issuer's financial result.

The Issuer tries to limit this risk by granting loans, if possible, secured in kind (mortgage, transfer of title for security) or with revenues (assignments of receivables), and by monitoring the situation of these companies on an ongoing basis.

Currency risk

As a rule, the issuer generates revenues and incurs its liabilities in the Polish currency, trying to minimize the currency risk. The company is exposed to currency risk which causes uncertainty as to the value of future cash flows. Part of the Company's liabilities in the amount of PLN 232 thousand PLN (resulting from the long-term rental agreement) is related to the euro exchange rate, therefore the weakening of the Polish zloty will have an impact on the amount of the financial liability under the long-term rental agreement. A change in the EUR exchange rate by PLN 0.10 causes an increase in the liability by PLN 0.5 thousand. zloty.

Risk exposure

The risk exposure of listed financial instruments held for trading, expressed at market value as at December 31, 2022, amounted to PLN 8,433 thousand. PLN, and as at December 31, 2021 it was PLN 10,939 thousand. zloty.

A 10% decrease or increase in the WIG stock exchange index and the NCIndex stock exchange index would cause a change in the consolidated financial result by approx. PLN 843,3 thousand. zloty.

Company's investment horizon is from one to five years long with preferable divestment route through listing the portfolio company on the NewConnect market an alternative trading system operated by Warsaw Stock Exchange and the Main Market of the Warsaw Stock Exchange or on the AeRO – the market for shares operated by Bucharest Stock Exchange and Main Market of the Bucharest Stock Exchange.

The result from investment activity is strongly influenced by many factors that are beyond the control of the Company.

EVALUATION OF THE COMPANY'S RISK MANAGEMENT ACTIVITY

Short operating history

The Company has a short operating history upon which investors can evaluate future performance. There can be no assurance that the Company will achieve its investment objectives or that the strategy applied by the Company will be successful. The Management Board considers that track record of the INC S.A. as the funding shareholder and experience of the managing team with capital delivered by investors provide solid base for development of the investment activity.

Market and Economic Risks

The Company and its portfolio companies may be materially affected by market, economic and political conditions globally and in the jurisdictions and sectors in which they invest or operate, including factors affecting interest rates, the availability of credit, currency exchange rates and trade barriers. These factors are outside the Company's control and could adversely affect the liquidity and value of its investments and may reduce the ability of the Company to make attractive new investments.

Currency exchange rates risk

The base currency of the Company is Polish zloty (PLN) and as such, the returns to investors will be impacted by currency movements between the Polish zloty (PLN) and other currencies in which the Company holds investments. These currency movements may be advantageous or disadvantageous to Polish zloty (PLN) returns. In addition, an investor must consider its personal effective 'base' currency as any currency movements between the Polish zloty (PLN) and the individual's base currency could result in a loss of capital invested.

Operating Deficits

The expenses of operating the Company may exceed the Company's income, thereby requiring the difference to be paid out of the Company's capital, reducing the value of the Company's investments and potential for profitability.

Risk of portfolio companies' failure

The Company will generally seek to analyze a target company's historical performance and prospects with a view toward understanding the sustainable margins, strengths and weaknesses in a company's cost structure and analyzing the quality of cash flows of the underlying investment, including capital intensity needed to sustain its asset base, requirements for growth, degrees of flexibility to reduce its cost base if volumes or prices decline, and requirements for debt amortization or other external payments. The Company will also seek to define the market in which a company competes and, in particular, to assess what the company does, including what products and services it provides and to whom; to understand threats it may face for pricing or cost structure; and to identify drivers of market growth or decline, including changes in industry structure, technology or demographics. However any investment may not perform as well as forecast, either because of changes in the economic climate, management errors or otherwise, resulting in the partial or total loss of the Company's investment.

Liquidity Risk

Company is exposed to liquidity risk. Liquidity risk may result from the lack of an active market, the reduced number of market participants, or the reduced capacity of market participants to make a transaction. Issuer with principal investment strategies that involve investments in securities of companies with smaller market capitalizations have the greatest exposure to liquidity risk. Exposure to liquidity risk may be heightened for these companies that are not widely traded, and that may be subject to purchase and sale restrictions. Such risks will include an increased risk of substantially smaller size and lower trading volume of securities for such smaller companies (as compared to equities in larger companies), which may result in a potential lack of liquidity and increased price volatility. The investment team will adopt flexible exit strategies on the markets which cannot be considered liquid due to insufficient number of transactions.

Frontier Market Risks

Investment in securities issued by an entity domiciled in Romania will be exposed to a higher level of risk than in cases of developed markets. In particular each of the risks discussed above under the following headings will be specifically relevant to any such investments and may have a greater likelihood of impacting the Company: political and/or regulatory risk, currency risk, accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards and exchange rates risk.

Development of the AeRO market

Because AeRO market is a newly created alternative market there are several risks factors related to its further development. There is no certainty that the AeRO market will attract companies interested in going public and new investors. Lack of new issuers and investor may lead to the lack of possibilities for investment and divestment for the Issuer. Dynamic development of the AeRO market may lead to tightening of admission and trading regulations and indirectly to decline in investor's and potential issuer's interest.

Exposure to risk

The risk exposure of listed financial instruments held for trading, expressed at market value on December 31, 2022 amounted to 13 136 thousand PLN.

A 10% decrease or increase in the WIG stock index, the NCIndex stock index and the AeRO market index would result in a change in the financial result by approximately 834,300. PLN.

INVESTMENT POLICY OF ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENT COMPANY

The Company's investment objective is to achieve long-term capital growth through investing in a diversified portfolio of financial instruments issued by SMEs operating in CEE, mainly listed and to be listed on NewConnect Alternative Trading System, the Main Market of Warsaw Stock Exchange and Catalyst Bond Market of the Warsaw Stock Exchange, the AeRO Market of the Bucharest Stock Exchange or the Main Market of the Bucharest Stock Exchange,

The Company's strategy is based on the following pillars:

- Outstanding opportunity

The Management Board believes that lack of patient capital for SMEs in CEE, where the demand for capital from SMEs is high and supply is substantially limited, provides an investment opportunity.

- Unique portfolio

The Company portfolio will represent a diversified mix of early-stage and early-growth companies with professional management teams and compelling prospects for development. The returns on capital deployed will not be the only economic benefit. We aim to support the development of knowledge-based economy by championing growth of SMEs in CEE.

- Founders

- Grupa Modne Zakupy S.A. (online fashion shop),
- Spectral Games S.A. (VR games developer),
- Plot Twist S.A. (games developer),
- Petgram S.A. (multifunctional social network),
- Bron.pl S.A. (online sale of shooting and defence products).

Taking advantage of the good economic situation, an investment in shares of Dook S.A. was completed. The shares of listed companies held in the portfolio did not, in the opinion of the investment team, present attractive divestment opportunities, hence the low number of completed investments.

In preparing the financial statements, The Company's Management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless The Company's Management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibility for the Audit of the Financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an independent auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but it is not guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with NAS will always detect material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements may arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of the users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

The scope of the audit does not include assurance as to the future profitability of the Company nor effectiveness of conducting business matters now and in the future by the Company's Management.

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. - conclude on the appropriateness of the Company's Management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our independent auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our independent auditor's report, however, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern,
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate to the Company's Supervisory Board on, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
